John Bull Out to Collect Income Tax From Workers in British Isles.

Notice Served on Our Men Who Cared for British Soldiers and Sailors

Joy Riding With Secretary in Japan Pleasant Surprise For Our Gobs.

NATIVES WERE COURTEOUS.

John Bull is out to collect an income tax from all the representatives of the Knights of Columbus who served for a period of six months or more in the British Isles. The tax is sought under a provision of the law that specifically states that any person who is temporarily in Britain for six months and more, despite the fact their sojourn was only temporary, are liable to the tax. The tax is levied upon salaries, profits earned while in the British Isles and upon all remittances sent to them from abroad outside. The income tax levy was discussed by Edgar A. Sharp, Commissioner for the Knights of Columbus in Great Britain. "The Surplus of one's income is out to collect from everyone of our boys who are liable under the six months or more law. Where the total income is 130 pounds there is no tax payable. Where the total income amounts to 150 pounds the tax is paid on 630 pounds," Commissioner Sharp said. That notice of the liability of the welfare workers who took care of British soldiers and sailors with the same careful attention that was bestowed on our own boys was served upon them by the Government recently. A great many of the Knights of Columbus have long left the British Isles.

is a very remote chance that they'll ever be able to collect the tax from these men. He also declared that the men under his command were sure to take the American taxman played host to George Commissioner played host to George Commissioning in London, maintained the extensive welfare work of the K. of C. which embraced England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales, and was the directing force which made the activities of the order so popular among the men of the American army and navy.

The glamor of the Orient "gets" us of the effete West. Some of us there were more than a thousand on the Sonoma—look forward to visiting the East but never get there we find it lonesome, extremely too much for our constitutions. The gobs of the South Dakota were feeling homesick when they were in view of Yokohama, Japan, early in December. They knew nobody there and nobody them. When they reached there they didn't anticipate much pleasure, not knowing the language and fearing that the natives weren't kindly to host. But they were surprised. The first place they met on the docks at Kamakura was a Japanese cop or customs official.

But a gentleman by the name of Casey"—a Knights of Columbus Society. His real name is Gary McGarry of Buffalo, N. Y. But he is a musical comedy artist who quit the stage to initiate K. of C. work for the men of the United States in the Hearing in Vladivostok that the Soviet Government was in Japanese waters, he hurried to Japan. Kamakura and was on the job with a perfect programme of entertainment by the time the warship arrived from the Japanese port. He kept the boys busy with three or four carnival, including athletics, feasting, sight-seeing and everything else that goes to make up the life worth living for a Yankee sailor on foreign shores.

His programme included a visit to the greatest Buddha in Japan—the great Daibutsu at Kamakura, where tens of thousands of Japanese make pilgrimages every year. It is in the great island of Japan, and near it is the Cave of Gaea, and they got on good terms with the gelsa girls—the K. of C. men acting as chaperons. The girls were persuaded to give a show on board the ship. The K. of C. the best show the men had seen, because it was genuinely Japanese, and the Japanese know how to make music. The natives were extremely courteous and accomplished profiteers. They regarded the invasion as a symbol of their friendship for their country and celebrated by boosting all their wares to what they had heard were American prices—in some cases charging fifty cents for a package of cigarettes that would cost ten cents in the United States; but the K. of C. officers, when this when a shipment of goodies was rerouted from Vladivostok to Kalhin, and the sailors were able to enjoy the "everything free" programme that has made the Knights famous.

The three-day jaunt through that section of Japan ended with a feast at the Kamakura and Kalhin hotels, when roast young turkey and cranberry sauce was the piece de resistance.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Mrs. Michael Fallon was given a delightful surprise party in honor of her birthday anniversary at her home, Twelfth and Zane streets. Among those present were, Mesdames Dominick McIntyre, Michael Sullivan, Paul Bronger, Rod Hall, John Lish, Thomas...

White, Thornbury, Denney; Misses Agnes and Margaret Fallon, Alice Cullen, Mary O'Mara and Genevieve Kenney.

PRO-ENGLISH JOURNALISM.

The Courier-Journal and Times denounced the Hearst press for publishing a story to the effect that English Government representatives were here trying to pave the way for a loan of thirteen billion dollars to Great Britain, and the writer of the stories was denounced in scathing terms as a degenerate, etc. Finally Palsha and Lord Grey both acknowledge that they were here on a begging mission and substantiated the Hearst story word for word. The Courier-Journal and Times have never apologized for the insulting and condemnatory censure, but such is the methods on which English propaganda is fostered in the United States.

NOT INTERESTED.

After a week's agitation against Sunday moving picture shows and announcements that the different Protestant ministers would lecture on the subject, very little interest was manifested by the congregations and the following news item describes the scene at Mayor Smith's place of worship:

With a congregation of twenty-five worshippers, including choir, organist and ushers, as a striking background for his picture, and Mayor Smith among those parishioners, the Rev. Isaac Helsor, pastor of Stuart Robinson Memorial Presbyterian church, spoke on the problem of Sunday's movies and Louisville's churches.

THE WIRES CUT.

Between Col. House and the White House all wires have been cut. No more S. O. S. flashes even by wireless. It comes out now, declares the Guardian, that the Colonel held to "staunch American Democracy" in Paris, as he did at home. He wanted all promises redeemed despite Lloyd George and Clemenceau. Though Wilson played in with them and their policies, the country knows now that Col. House was a good observer and adviser over in Paris. Perhaps Wilson is able to reflect and wish that he did not handle the whole affair "in my own way." It is one thing to toss aside his friends, another and a bigger one to toss aside the American constitution and American public opinion. We presume President Wilson has been reflecting.

EUROPE BEING SPOILED.

From several sources recently we have heard that Europe is being "spoiled" by the war relief work done there by America. Now comes Herbert Hoover, former food administrator of the United States, who decries all hysteria over the food situation in Europe. He says that outside of a few of the larger cities the people have food enough to supply their needs. We are inclined to believe that Hoover knows what he is talking about. Some weeks ago we were assured by a soldier, who had spent more than two years in France, Germany and Belgium and who had opportunity for wide observation, that it would be a blessing for Europe if America would keep out of there with relief work. Thrown on their own resources, the men who had fought for four years would return to work. But as long as America would send food, they would not work.

PRICES TO STAND.

Attorney General Palmer explains that he does not anticipate lower prices to follow immediately from the agreement of the packers to withdraw from certain lines of business. Neither do we. In fact, we thought so little of that agreement, which was heralded as epoch-making, that we refrained from all comment upon it. The present era of high prices is due to a combination of causes—not the least of which is our unprecedented currency inflation and the expansion of credits. The Federal reserve banks were supposed to operate as a safety valve to prevent financial panics. Judging from the amount of Federal reserve currency in circulation at the present time, one might suppose that these banks were designed to add unlimited quantities of paper money to our circulation.

PROHIBITION A FAILURE.

Strange to say, the advent of prohibition has in nowise decreased crime throughout the United States, and we are not living in the land of peace and happiness so much predicted by the dry orators.

"ENTANGLING ALLIANCES."

It is hardly possible that Senator Borah may be playing politics in the letter addressed the other day to Gov. Lowden, of Illinois; but even under those conditions the note rings with the right tone. The representative from Idaho says that those for whom he speaks have no idea of confining the questions to the Governor of Illinois. "For 150 years," says the Senator's letter, "we have in this country, regardless of parties, adhered to a distinct foreign policy—no entangling alliances or partnerships with foreign powers and no interference by foreign powers in American affairs." It is a well-known fact that for a number of years European interests have been working night and day to draw the United States into European affairs. This is particularly true of Great Britain, whose government has been carrying on a hands-on-the-sea propaganda here with the greatest vigor. It is gratifying to note that there is at least one man in the United States Senate who has the courage to stand up and be counted as against the belittling agitation which has been permitted to flourish until it has become a menace. It is not for the United States to mix in any of the European struggles. We have quite enough to do to attend to our own affairs. To be sure, every one in this country is anxious to see established the high ideals for which our young men fought in the late war. But these can be established without our taking active part in European turmoil. It has always been the policy of this Government to "beware of entangling alliances." It is a good policy to continue.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA.

With the membership passing the 500 mark, a large class initiation, a dance and banquet, the Louisville Daughters of Isabella start the New Year with every indication of increased strength and activity. On Saturday afternoon, January 10, Mrs. George Rankin, of the Entertainment Committee, gave a "silver tea" at her residence, 4319 Southern Parkway, and with her characteristic charm and hospitality entertained from 3 until 6 o'clock. So bright and cheery did she and her assistants make it for the callers that each one was loath to leave. The next regular meeting will take place at K. of C. hall on Tuesday evening, January 20, at 8 o'clock.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Installation of officers of St. Joseph's Orphan Society took place at the annual meeting at St. Joseph's Orphans' Home Sunday afternoon. President John Tobe installed officers as follows: Vice President, Dominick Luthers; Recording Secretary, Henry Heil; Corresponding Secretary, Alfred Kupp; Financial Secretary, Sebastian Hubbach, and Treasurer, William F. Mayer. Officers elected by the Ladies' Sewing Circle are: President, Mrs. Bernard Stoesser; Vice President, Mrs. Mary Richman; Secretary, Mrs. John Tobe; Treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Barkley. Diplomas were awarded for twenty-five years' membership to John L. Elsner, Jacob Graft, P. B. Horstman, John H. Hubers, Joseph J. Mueller, August Timmell and Joseph Wintergerst.

OCTAVE OF PRAYER.

The Octave of Prayer for Church Unity, which has for its object the return of the "other sheep" to the one, true fold of the Good Shepherd, will begin on the Feast of St. Peter's Chair at Rome, January 18, and will close on the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, January 25. This devotion has the unique distinction of being practiced jointly by Catholics and by thousands upon thousands of earnest Christians in various Protestant sects. "One Fold and One Shepherd" is the holy and inspiring object of the octave. It should make a strong appeal to all who have the true Christian spirit, to all who have the charity of God in their hearts.

INTENTION FOR JANUARY.

peals to the faithful of the world over to be especially mindful of the men who gave up their lives in the recent conflict, and he begs for these heroic martyrs increased and more fervent prayers during the opening month of the new year. The martyrs of patriotism are assuredly deserving of our most generous consideration. They bravely and self-sacrificingly exposed themselves to horrible dangers; they underwent fearful suffering; and they went down into the Valley of Death for the sake of the folks at home. Greater love than theirs hath no man shown. It is in behalf of these noble heroes that the Holy Father appeals to us for prayers.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mark A. Feighan, aged sixty-four, died Sunday at the family residence at Beechmont, and to his friends the news was a shock. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from St.
Louis Bertrand church.

Michael J. O'Hearn, only son of Mrs.
Alice Doyle O'Hearn, 318 North Twenty-first street, took place from years old and was a favorite among his childhood playmates.

funeral took place with requiem high mass Monday morning.

Berger, 1331 DeBarre street, after a long and exemplary life. Funeral ser-been a regular and devout com-municant.

of Mrs. Catherine Reiner, widow of devout member. She was the mother of George B. Reiner, chief clerk ington school.

Mrs. Mary Riley Stone, beloved

Margaret Mallory, beloved wife of Frank Mallory, was received here by her many friends and relatives with most profound sorrow. Deceased was formerly Miss Margaret Connors, of this city, and was a woman whose many virtues and good nature won her the respect of all who made her acquaintance. The body arrived here Wednesday morning and the funeral took place from St. Paul's church, Rev. Eugene Donohue conducting the requiem high mass.

Capt. Michael J. Lawler, aged eighty-three, a veteran of the civil resident of Sacred Heart parish, passed peacefully away Sunday evening at the home of his son-in-law, W. G. McShane, 2007 West Broadway, leaving a legion of friends who mourn his death. For years he was an inspector in the City Engineer's department and was widely known in both business and society circles, and to the unfortunate he was a real friend. His funeral took place Wednesday morning, Rev. Father Walsh conducting the solemn services.

"A PROGRESSIVE CONCERN."

Of the younger firms of this city we note with pleasure the place the Superior Woolen Mills have secured for themselves among the business interests of Louisville. Less than three years ago the Superior Woolen Mills began business at their present location, 513 West Market street.
They are incorporated under the laws of the State of West Virginia, and the substantial growth made by the Superior Woolen Mills is due largely to the foresight and efficiency of its officers, E. R. Potts, President, and General Manager; J.
Ward Strother, Treasurer, and H. J.
Cross, Secretary. We commend especially the liberal treatment of their employees and the privilege they are given to become interested in the firm in a more than ordinary way. The employees of the Superior Woolen Mills are allowed to purchase stock in the company. This is not all; the Superior Woolen Mills operate on the profit sharing plan of dividing fifty per cent of the net profits of the business each year with the employees and also pay a quarterly bonus of 5 per cent. to all employees who have been in their employ six months or longer. The Superior Woolen Mills by their method of furnishing tailor-made clothes direct from the weaver to the wearer have always made it their policy to give the public every possible benefit. As in their usual custom, they are now starting their mill end sale and have on display in their Louisville store all short ends of woolsens from their branch stores which they now give the public the benefit of by closing them out regardless of their former prices.

MAKE BIG MOVE.

The movement to bring the headquarters of the Knights of Columbus to Washington has been revived by the Washington councils. Potomac Council, which boasts of more than 900 members, has taken up the matter in earnest, and is preparing an organized campaign. Literature will be distributed, and an effort will be made to secure sufficient backing for the project by the time the next national convention meets.

MOURNED BY FRIENDS.

By the death of Charles Kaelin, Sr., Holy Trinity church at St. Matthews loses an old and highly respected member. His funeral took place Monday morning, Rev. Father Bohlen celebrating the requiem high mass. Five sons, Charles, Jr., Edward, August, Henry and Fred Kaelin, and four daughters, Mrs.
Frederick Young, Mrs. Zachariah Blisig, Mrs. Henry Liebert and Mrs.
Henry Bauer, survive him.

THEY ARE BUSY.

The members of St. Helena's Cooperative Club have outlined a programme of unusual activity for the pre-Lenten season. These young women conduct dances for the soldiers at Camp Taylor at Hut 3 every Thursday evening and Saturday afternoon. Their social meeting takes place on Monday night, January 26, and will be featured by a lecture and entertainment. The Dramatic Circle announces "a dress rehearsal" to be given soon, and the club dance will take place early next month.

CLIMB THRIFT LADDER.

The Knights of Columbus climbed high on the ladder of thrift according to an estimate made by William P. Larkin, Overseas Director, who stated that during the year 1919 the order had heeded the national doctrine of saving to the record figure of $500,000,000. Of this stupendous amount several hundreds of thousands of dollars are represented by investments of the national body in Liberty and Victory bonds and Savings Stamps. A recapitulation of the 1,800 councils of the Knights reveals that they have actually contributed enormous funds in governmental securities. More than $175,000,000 has been invested by 500,000 members of the order in thrift stamps and Liberty bonds alone. Mr. Larkin stated that the Daughters of Isabella, which is the women's auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus, had taken a very prominent part in the thrift campaign and had a total investment amounting close on to $1,500,000. The campaign to spread the doctrine of thrift throughout the country is already progressing for the new year, he said, and the Knights hope to repeat and surpass the total of half a billion dollars—the 1919 record.

MUST MOTHERS WORK?

The American Woolen Company will establish a "motherhood insurance," which is to afford four weeks' benefit without cost to every prospective mother in the employ of the corporation. This may be well-meant and highly philanthropic, but we heartily agree with the trade unionist's comment when he writes: "This announcement may bring joy to 'uplifters' and social workers, but it is a bitter indictment against wages paid to the father and supposed bread-winner." It is indifferent what the wage rates may be in this particular corporation, but it is time that Americans realize that Christian civilization requires the presence of the mother in the household and not in the factory. Once a living wage has been secured for every head of a family it will be possible to legislate against the employment of mothers away from the children whom the Almighty has committed to their own direct care and not to the step-motherly affections of even the best of day nurseries. Why indeed must mothers work in factories?

COUNTY BOARD MEETING.

The County Board, A. O. H., will meet Friday evening, January 23, in Bertrand Hall. Being the first meeting of the new year, it is expected the divisions will be fully represented.
